The program prepares the esthetics teacher trainee with the knowledge and skills to be effective in classroom and practical instructional settings. Esthetics instructors teach coursework related to hygiene, sanitation, facial treatments, lash and brow enhancements and makeup application services at a vocational school or college. Duties include creating lesson plans that involve both theory and practical work, designing hands-on activities, monitoring progress, and grading assignments. Instructors help students explore opportunities in the field of esthetics and earn the qualifications and skills they need to pursue a career. Responsibilities also include communicating effectively with diverse personalities and learning styles, building and maintaining effective relationships with students, and demonstrating the necessary professionalism and adherence to ethical standards.
